

Flagging Mirror

This mirror comes in very handy when working alone and when flagging with others, keeps the Blue Flagger from turning around to see if a pass was made.

Cheap clamp from Harbor Freight, mirror from Advance Auto. I did replace the nut on the back of the mirror wing nut, which has to be metric to fit the mirrors screw. With a wing nut, you can quickly change the mirror to the other side of the clamp to suit where/how you have to mount it.
